

June 3, 2014

Bagatelle Introduces a New Lunch Menu

The grand reopening of the restaurant boasts an outdoor terrace and new options for lunch.

Who doesn't love lunch? We have just the place for all of you lunch lovers. The newly-reopened Bagatelle New York is proud to announce their new lunch menu. Executive Chef Sébastien Chamaret has created a wide variety of lunches that any New Yorker (or tourist) is bound to love. His French-like fusion provides the perfect light meal for anyone who finds themselves in the meatpacking district.

The menu offers great prices for the quality and amount of food you get, like the Moules Frites or the Chicken Paillard. And with every great meal comes great drinks. The drink menu offers options perfect for any time, but especially midday. For all you wine-o's out there, the extensive wine and champagne list is to die for. And for the health nuts, Bagatelle features house-made juices and fresh mocktails daily.

Make your way to Bagatelle in New York for a meal you won't forget!