Let the bun cool

COULD Kim Kardashian (above) not be telling the truth about her due date? The pregnant reality star said on the "Today" show in January that her and Kanye West's bundle of joy is due in July, but sources tell us it's actually earlier. During a recent baby shower for fashion stylist Monica Rose at Bagatelle LA, Kim was overheard saying she's due in mid-June. Could a delay announcing the birth give her a chance to enjoy private time with the newborn and lose some weight? Kim's rep had no comment.
