SOFÍA Vergara (above) had a big night out at Bagatelle Friday with a group of 19, including fiancé Nick Loeb, son Manolo and niece Claudia Daniela. “Sofia requested Latin songs and was busting a move with her son,” says a spy. “So many people were trying to take photos of her, the restaurant offered security.” We’re told the “Fading Gigolo” star was gifted a magnum of Dom Perignon Luminous, delivered by a staff member in a Superman costume carried aloft to the table by other employees.
