

STYLIST.CO.UK

April 23, 2014

THE WORLD'S MOST EXPENSIVE DISHES

We're all for adventurous food here at Stylist HQ. We've tried the incredible chocolate chip cookie shots and rounded-up the top 10 most stunning cakes we found on the internet.

But the dishes below take food to new heights, with the most lavish ingredients and consequently the heftiest price tags. Restaurants and cafes from New York to London to Dubai have all conjured up over-the-top, expensive dishes that, while we might not be digging into any time soon, we sure like to ogle at...

ICE CREAM SUNDAE - £594.28 ($1000)

Bagatelle restaurant in New York City's Meatpacking District has just put this $1000 ice cream sundae on its menu. Named the Mauboussin Mega Sundae, it consists of scoops of vanilla ice cream and Dom Perignon Rose sorbet topped with chocolate truffles, macarons, whipped cream, chocolate vodka sauce, "gilded brownies" and a sprinkling of gold leaf. It also comes with a Mauboussin ring made of black steel and white gold worth £314.97 ($530), which means diners are paying £279.31 ($470) for the rest of the sweet dessert.